GUIDE TRIPS AVAILABLE ON THE WHITE RIVER

WHITE RIVER FLOAT FISHING TRIPS

A float trip on the famous, crystal clear White River for lunker trout offers the utmost in fishing enjoyment plus beautiful, unforgettable scenery. Catches of rainbow and brown trout are more or less commonplace throughout the year. Our top-rated guides are thoroughly experienced and careful. Our equipment is modern and complete, and our John boats are built for safety and comfort. They carry a maximum of three fishermen and guide. Included in our flat rate charge: bait, hooks, nets, anchor, ice, paddles, coolers (includes box lunch, fish cleaned and plastic bagged), sinkers, leader line, corn, soda pop, swivel chairs, and cushions. NOT INCLUDED: license, trout stamp, rod and reel, minnows and crawfish. NO HIDDEN EXTRAS! Rods and reels available for renting upon request.

Your guide knows the most likely places for you to find that big fighting trout. While comfortably seated in a swivel chair, floating quietly over shoals, rocks, and deep blue waters in a John boat, that odd looking 20 foot long by a yard wide flat bottomed affair that is peculiar to the Ozarks, you will experience some of the greatest fishing thrills of your life. As you seek out those elusive lunkers while gliding past towering bluffs, rolling meadows and forest covered hills, the cares of the work-a-day world will fade away. The water in the White River is so cold that even during the warmest summer weather, one can remain comfortably cool.

Come noontime, your guide will put you onto a clean, well-shaded gravel bar for a packed box lunch. If you wish, by previous early arrangement, it will be some of the morning catch of fresh trout - fried in a large cast iron skillet over an open wood fire. After lunch, you are off again - this time for the afternoon float.

When you leave your boat at the end of the day's float, the upper end transportation is provided for you and your catch back to headquarters. Because of distance, there is an extra charge when going in at Cotter, AR to lower end of the White River. ALL OUR VEHICLES ARE AIR-CONDITIONED. ALL PRICES PLUS SALES TAX.
